Back to school!

We have had a lovely first two weeks back in school. Class 1 have been looking at traditional tales and have started a research project on farm animals. They have also used the computers to have a go at drawing some aboriginal style art. Our new Reception children have settled well and have been exploring their new classroom.

Class 2 have started their new topics; Rocks and the Stone Age. We have sorted rocks from hard to soft (testing them by scraping) and also investigated which rocks are permeable and which are impermeable. We discovered sedimentary rocks are soft and permeable! We also had a mock "archeological dig" in the classroom. We found arrow and axe heads as well as other artefacts and have tried our hand at cave painting. In Forest school we are creating dens and are going to plan and build a stone age shelter!

School Diaries—for Reading and Homework

New homework grids have been sent home this week, as have new School diaries. Please use the diaries to record any reading that you do at home. The left of each double page spread is for you to record homework activities. Alternatively you can share homework on Dojo.

Class Dojo

We will continue to celebrate our Greenhaugh code values (at the top of this newsletter) each week in a celebration assembly. This week's winners showed ambition and a great team work. Our Reception children all received a certificate for their fantastic start!
